New Fighting Flares Near Entrance to Suez

Egyptian, Israeli Forces Battle on Ground, in Air; Cairo Demands U.N. Action

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — artillery battle on the canal was Egyptian and Israeli forces battled in the air and on the ground. Earlier, Egypt claimed its forces were repelling an Israeli attempt to advance on Port Fuad. It said the clash came at the end of the six-day Arab-Israeli war.

Radio Cairo said the Egyptian government demanded an urgent session of the U.N. Security Council in New York to deal with what it called "the new aggression."

The Egyptian broadcast said Israeli air force jets attacked Egyptian positions in Port Said and Port Fuad at the Mediterranean entrance to the Suez Canal and that Egyptian planes engaged them in air combat. It claimed Israeli forces were trying to move up the eastern bank of the canal in a drive to seize Port Fuad.

Israel claimed that Israeli jets were strafing Egyptian artillery which had opened fire on the Israeli occupation forces from the west bank of the canal. It said the fighting was along several miles of the canal's banks. Israeli tanks on the east bank were hit by the Egyptian artillery fire, a Tel Aviv communiqué said.

June 10 Cease-Fire

It was the second straight weekend in which fighting had broken out in violation of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire which went into effect June 10, halting Israel's sweep into the territories of three Arab nations: Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

An Egyptian army communiqué said six Israeli Mirage jets, French-built planes had penetrated Egyptian air space over Port Said and Port Fuad at 2 p.m. (8 a.m., EDT), the Cairo broadcast said.

It added that Egyptian anti-aircraft guns opened up, and China has accused the British of Egyptian planes took to the air "to suppress most of the disorder as they have arisen. Red 'faust atrocities' and 'bloody suppression'."

The broadcast said an air and

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rapid Soviet delivery of fighter planes, tanks and other modern arms to Arab nations during the past month has sharply discouraged Johnson administration hopes of negotiating an international agreement to limit arms levels in the Middle East.

U.S. officials say they have not given up all hope of discussing this problem with the Soviet government but that in the light of Soviet actions since the Arab-Israeli war ended last month the prospect does not look very promising.

The issue is understood to be one on which President Johnson received no encouraging indications from Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin during their conferences at Glassboro, N.J.

U.S. officials say Kosygin followed privately the same hard line on the Middle East crisis which he took publicly at the United Nations.

Nevertheless, administration officials found some reason for post-Glassboro hope because there are Arab-Israeli issues on which the United States and Soviet Union were shown to have somewhat similar positions.

Kosygin made clear to the President—as he said publicly—that the Soviet government recognizes the existence of the state of Israel. The Arab nations do not recognize Israel's right to exist.

U.S. officials also concluded from the Glassboro talks that the Soviet Union would have no problem working for an end to the state of war which has existed between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

Gurkhas Disperse Mobs

Red Chinese Attack Police in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Three hundred Red Chinese crossed into Hong Kong today and attacked a police garrison with automatic weapons fire, killing four Hong Kong policemen and wounding 13 others. Gurkha troops of the British army came to the rescue and the Communists dispersed.

In London, British officials said that on the basis of first reports their belief is that the attack was "an isolated incident" not involving Chinese military forces.

There were reports the Communists fired also on the advancing Gurkhas, tough fighters recruited by the British in Nepal on the Indian subcontinent. None was reported hit.

600 Gurkhas

Six hundred Gurkhas took over the police outpost in the border village of Sha Tau Kok and quiet returned to the border area by nightfall.

The village is on the Kowloon peninsula, scene of Communist outburst against British rule in Hong Kong in May and June. The main island of Hong Kong was not affected.

At the outset of the Communist attack, 86 Hong Kong policemen barricaded themselves inside the police post and about 30 others took cover in a government building 50 yards behind it.

Troops of the 48th Gurkha Brigade advanced through sniper fire to rescue those in the government building, then turned against the 300 Reds trying to batter down the doors of the police post.

Eleven policemen were wounded. Two of the dead policemen were identified as Hong Kong-born Pakistanis. Sixty or so of them are on duty in the border area. The other two killed were Hong Kong Chinese.

Two large Communist mobs were spotted massing across the border, the government said, one group of about 3,000 Chinese including 300 armed men in uniform and another mob of some 2,000.

Authorities in the beleaguered British colony mobilized all auxiliary police forces, alerted Hong Kong's 10,000 garrison troops and cabled London for instructions.

The police post was reportedly under sniper fire. The Chinese had at least one machine gun set up.

The police post attack was at Sha Tau Kok, a small village that straddles the Communist border of the colony.

The border crossing and attack was the latest in a series of attempts by the Communists to make the colonial government bow to Red Chinese influence.

Efforts by Maoists to stir up local Hong Kong Communists to force the British to their knees through labor strikes and riots have largely failed. The bulk of the colony's four million over Chinese have been loyal to the colonial authorities, who have suppressed most of the disorder as they have arisen. Red 'faust atrocities' and 'bloody suppression'."

There was no immediate belief that the Chinese planned to launch a major attack against the colony.

Vietnam War Mastermind Dies in Hanoi

Saigon (AP) — A shadowy North Vietnamese general who masterminded Communist political and military strategy in the south from a jungle stronghold near Cambodia's border, died of a heart attack according to Hanoi Radio.

He was 55-year-old Gen. Nguyen Du Thanh, who not only directed the war in South Vietnam, but was the chief mastermind of North Vietnam's Communist strategy.

Radio Hanoi said that Thanh died in a heart attack July 7 and was buried the following day. His body had rested in state at Hanoi's Communist center and North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh had led a funeral.

Amphibious forces in Saigon had been ordered to move on when Thanh had returned to North Vietnam.

It was known to intelligence sources that Thanh had been routed from his command post in the mountains of the U.S. assault.

At that time, Thanh pulled back into Cambodia with his command personnel and members of the National Liberation Front, the political organ of Hanoi in South Vietnam.

UW Regents Claim Funds Insufficient For New Campuses

Accept $12.8 Million, But Warn About 'Shortchanging' Education

MADISON — The University of Wisconsin Board of Regents today accepted the $12.8 million approved by the state legislature for development of new campuses in Brown and Kenosha counties. But warned that the funds would not be sufficient to meet the tasks set before the institutions.

The action came as a part of official deliberations past the board the approval of a $201.7 million budget for the coming biennium for the entire UW system.

The board approved development plans for the two campuses for the coming decade and gave further approval to the routed from his command post in the mountains of the U.S. assault.

Vivien Leigh Found Dead

Famed Stage and Screen Actress Had Suffered From TB

LONDON (AP) — Vivien Leigh, star of stage and screen, was found dead in her London apartment today. She had been in ill health for some time.

Miss Leigh, former wife of Sir Laurence Olivier, had long suffered from tuberculosis. She had a relapse recently and was under medical care.

Doctors had advised her to rest last week after a recurrence of tuberculosis. She was to have begun rehearsals next month for Edward Albee's play, "A Delicate Balance."

Miss Leigh rose to world acclaim for her role of Scarlett O'Hara opposite Clark Gable in the film "Gone With the Wind."

Tshombe was kidnapped and flown to Algeria June 30 and authorities are considering a request for his extradition to the Congo, which sentenced him to death for treason while he was living in exile in Spain.

Diplomats at the United Nations predicted if Tshombe is returned to the Congo and executed, the former Belgian colony's internal troubles would mushroom.

Lagos Radio said rebel troops opened fire first early Thursday and charged that Ojukwu had "unleashed terrorist activities in Lagos and other parts of Nigeria" after declaring its independence from the federal government May 30.

Civil War Rages

Rebels Suffer Heavy Casualties in Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Civil war raged in Nigeria today between soldiers of the breakaway eastern region of Biafra and federal government troops ordered to invade the eastern region and capture Gov. C.O. Ojukwu.

The federal government said the rebel forces had suffered heavy casualties. The Biafrans claimed to have killed at least six Nigerian officers and to have destroyed a company of soldiers.

Earlier, Radio Biafra said Biafran troops had repulsed a "full frontal assault" by Nigerian troops led by white mercenaries. It gave no details on the alleged mercenaries.

Lagos Radio said rebel troops opened fire first early Thursday and charged that Ojukwu had "unleashed terrorist activities in Lagos and other parts of Nigeria" after declaring its independence from the federal government May 30.

Annexation of Land Approved

Appleton Ready To Add Territory To North, South

A sweeping annexation of property north and south of the city — estimated to have more than a $3 million full valuation — received a final okay from the Appleton Council Wednesday night.

Aldermen met the last legal requirement by voting for approval and publication of ordinances which would take in properties in the Towns of Grand Chute, Harrison and Menasha.

There is now a 60-day waiting period in the event the towns want to contest the action.

Letters Object

Previously, clerks of the Towns of Grand Chute and Menasha sent letters to city officials objecting to the annexations.

The package includes about 140 acres north of the city in Grand Chute, of which an estimated 95 acres are owned by the city and will be used for future park and school purposes.

Also included is another 137 acres south of the city, most of the area being in Harrison and about 35 acres in the Town of Menasha. The city owns 40 acres it acquired for future park, school and expressway purposes.

The annexations were voluntary since the city circulated the petitions some time ago and secured more than the required number of signatures.

Approval was received on the annexation to the south from the Wisconsin Department of Resource Development, but it questioned the extension to the north and said it would create an "island" of four houses that would be in Grand Chute but surrounded by the city.

Includes Utility

One annexation includes the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. substitution in the Town of Harrison which has a value of about $2.5 million and should be good for $35,000 to $40,000 in utility tax revenue to the city annually.

Most of the remaining property is in private hands and probably will become commercial and residential developments.

The city's land acquisition committee, comprised of Mayor George Buckley, City Planner Walter Rasmussen, City Atty. David Geenen and Works Director Frank Keller, played a major role in putting the annexations together.

With Appleton entering the Town of Menasha under terms of the annexation, it extends the city into Winnebago County for the first time.

Swimmers Pass Course Tests in Waupaca Classes

WAUPACA — A total of 18 students have passed the beginners' test this season.

Paula Morey and Julie Clayton passed the advanced beginners' test. Julie Marquard and Dennis Dalrymple completed the intermediate course to be the first two to pass this season. Jackie Hawkins was the first to pass the swimmers' course. The first to pass the Red Cross junior lifesaving course was David Dalrymple.

Beach attendance for the week was 4,320 to bring the 1967 total to 12,540. Lesson attendance was 493 bringing the year's total to 1,508. Both figures are ahead of last year. LeRoy Haberkorn, beach director, said.

Rural Kaukauna Man Gets Jail Sentence

Richard L. Reinert, 26, route 1, Kaukauna, was in Outagamie County jail this morning after being found guilty of disorderly conduct by Judge Gustave J. Keller.

He received a 36-day sentence upon failure to pay a fine of $75 and costs. Reinert was involved in an incident Thursday in the 400 block of N. Main St., Kimberly, and apprehended by village police.

Crews Dump Fill to Build Second U.S. 41 Causeway

OSHKOSH — Crews started from the Bulcan Material Quarry, stripping fill and hauling it to the site of the second U.S. 41 bridge over Lake Butte des Courteney and Plummer has begun stripping material from the Grundy Quarry on Sunnyview Road, about one-half mile west of County Trunk T.

The two companies will complete the first stage of the causeway construction by August 15, a spokesman for the Beaver Dam firm said today.

The start of construction today puts an end to the battle waged by nearby property owners in recent months to put the second bridge on piers instead of using the causeway style.

Lakeside residents objected to the solid fill construction since they felt the original bridge had caused increased siltation and the backup of stagnant water.

An injunction to stop the causeway construction was dropped in the State Supreme Court after a month of disagreement.

Four additional culverts, which weren't included in the original plans, will be installed to provide for more water flowage.

The second stage in the bridge construction will begin shortly after the bid openings next Tuesday. The partial structure work will cost an estimated $700,000. Present estimates of the total bridge and causeway costs are $2,975,000.

Three structures for the second crossing on U.S. 41 include a nine-span, 746-foot unit and two three-span units, each about 220 feet. The main span will have a 32-foot vertical clearance.

The long-awaited southbound roadway will complete U.S. 41 as a four-lane divided highway between Milwaukee and Green Bay.

The bridge will be constructed just west of the present crossing and is expected to be in operation by October, 1968.

Traffic over the Butte des Morts bridge has increased 130 per cent during the past 12 years, from a day's peak of 4,400 in 1955 to a 10,150 peak day last year.

Mankato Youth Bound Over on Felony Charge

Michael Low, 18, Arrested After Stabbing Incident

Michael Low, 18, Mankato, Minn., was bound over to Circuit Court Friday afternoon after a preliminary hearing on a charge of feloniously causing bodily harm by handling a knife in a highly negligent manner.

The charge results from a stabbing incident early the morning of May 27 following a fracas in a Town of Grand Chute beer bar.

Judge Gustave J. Keller of Outagamie County Court Branch 2 continued custody of the boy to his father.

Only witness to testify during the preliminary hearing, which had been requested by Philip Schlichting, the youth's attorney, was Russell Paeth, 1530 E. Glendale Ave. Paeth was stabbed in the abdomen during an alleged fight with Low.

Emergency Surgery He was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital, where an emergency operation was performed. He was confined to intensive care for a week.

Paeth testified during the evening of May 26 that Low threw a beer bottle that hit William Rath, 18, 610 N. Owaisa St., on the head.

The youth said he later left the beer bar and saw Rath apparently chasing Low across a nearby field. He then overtook Rath and told him that he would get Low for the police.

The chase continued for several blocks, Paeth said, before Low stabbed him in a struggle between the garage and the house at 2640 W. Fourth St.

Judge Keller denied a motion of the defense attorney to dismiss the charge on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Paeth and Rath previously were found guilty of disorderly conduct in the incident in a trial June 24 and were fined $100.

Rural Appleton Man Hurt When His Car Goes Off County Trunk

Minor injuries were suffered by Allen P. Krull, 19, route 2, Appleton, about 11:15 p.m. Thursday when the car he was driving traveled almost 200 feet after leaving the road.

Krull told Outagamie County sheriff's authorities he was traveling south on County Trunk 2 about one-half mile north of Black Creek, was estimated at $100. Damage to the farm lawn was estimated to be about $150.

Man Collapses While Cutting Lawn and Dies

Ferdinand L. Kluball, 63, 1524 N. Richmond St., was pronounced dead on arrival at Appleton Memorial Hospital about 7:30 p.m. Thursday after he passed out while cutting his lawn.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard Kemps ruled the death natural due to heart failure.

Kluball's wife said he was cutting the lawn about 7:15 p.m. while she was washing windows. He complained of feeling faint and passed out.

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called and administered oxygen and heart massage, with Kluball seemingly responding. He was rushed to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

The machinist for the Appleton Machine Co. had been under physician's care for a heart murmur. The body was released to the Brettschneider Trettin Funeral Home.

Fire Destroys Mobile Home

Origin Unknown in $10,000 Bear Creek Blaze; No One Hurt

BEAR CREEK — Fire of undetermined origin Friday afternoon destroyed the mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Smythe, with damage estimated at more than $10,000.

All of the contents of the home were destroyed, including Smythe's paycheck.

Smythe, who works nights, was asleep in the home at the time the fire was discovered. He escaped uninjured, but the clothing he was wearing was burned.

The fire was spotted by Mrs. Norbert Norder, a neighbor, who called volunteer firemen. They extinguished the blaze, but were called back about 7 p.m. when smoldering contents again flared up.

The Smythes had occupied the two-bedroom, 12 by 64-foot home since earlier this year. Another mobile home was provided for them Friday evening.

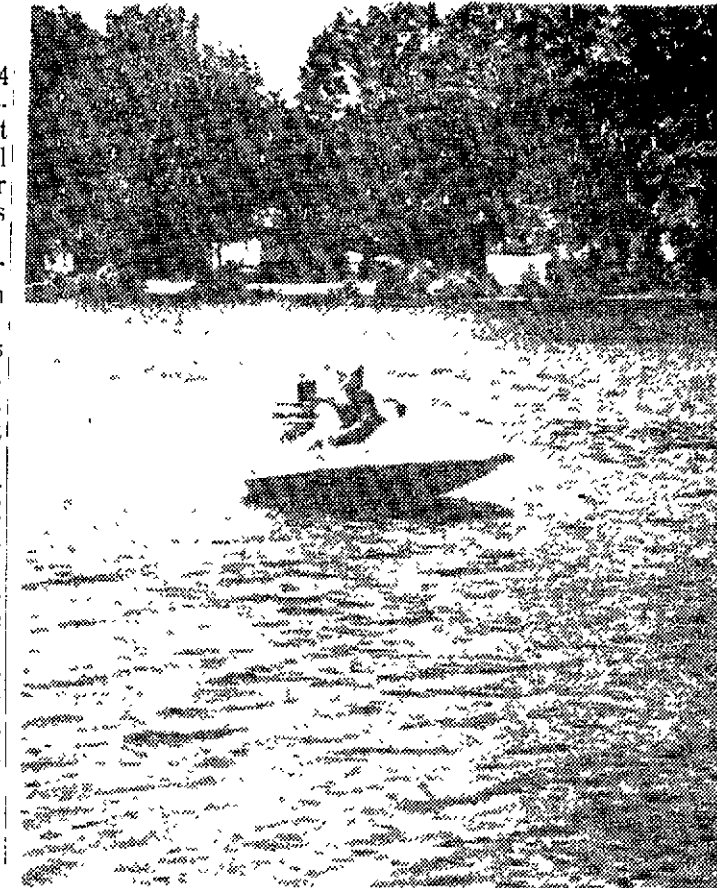

The home and contents were partially insured.

Damage to the car, owned by Helen Willenkamp, route 2, Black Creek, was estimated at $900. Damage to the farm lawn was estimated to be about $150.

State-Owned Homes Voted for Chancellors

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Chancellors of the four campuses of the University of Wisconsin will be supplied with state-owned residences, the UW regents decided Friday.

Included in the list are Edward W. Weidner, chancellor of the UW-Green Bay; Irvin Wyllmueller, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin ic, UW-Parkside, and William Tasch (Lillian Parsons), Mr. Sewell, chancellor of the Madison campus.

J. Martin Klotche, chancellor of the UW-Milwaukee has been supplied with a residence for a number of years as has the president of UW.

The action came in approving the use of one of five homes at the Madison campus for use as an official residence of the new Madison chancellor. The regents voted to adopt the historic Brittingham Home for the main campus chancellor.

Need To Entertain UW President Fred Harrington made the recommendation to the regents, in view of the increased entertaining required of the chief campus administrator and in light of present practices at comparable institutions.

He said that under the recommendation, homes will be supplied for the chancellors of the new third and fourth year campuses in Green Bay and Kenosha. Locally donated funds will be used to supply those residences, he said.

Three months ago the UW Foundation, a private fund-raising organization associated with the system, announced the formation of fund raising committees in the areas.

Under the policy adopted only residential chancellors will be supplied with homes. Excluded from the policy will be the chancellors of the center and extension systems.

Wisconsin Missionaries' Work County Fair, Carnival Circuit

BY HENRY SIMON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Gospel tracts share prominence with plumed carnival hats and headpieces sporting tiger tails at a concessions wagon which will be on the midway at the Outagamie County Fair in Seymour this week.

Albert (Bud) and Ethel Winfrey are dubbed "the Wisconsin missionaries" by their friends in Florida, for they have been "on the road" in the state for 17 years.

During 11 of those seasons they have distributed tracts and tried to "witness for the Lord" to all they meet.

The couple opened the summer season this week at the Fourth of July Civic Celebration at Pierce Park in Appleton, and commented that the teen-agers who provide most of the customers for their hats were well behaved.

They May Laugh
"Teens here may laugh about our tracts," they said, "but not many are thrown away."

The Winfreys have a smile and a tract for anyone who is interested. Last year they distributed more than 5,000 tracts, handing out many with hats.

A small rack on the front of their hat wagon also holds tracts, which are free for the taking. The supply is changed periodically.

"We talk to a lot of people to whom we don't sell," Mrs. Winfrey noted. "In this business we get to meet people we wouldn't otherwise."

The Winfreys were not always Woodville Pastor to Preach in Appleton

A guest pastor will conduct the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services Sunday at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Rupert Eggert, Woodville, one of two Wisconsin Synod missionaries to Puerto Rico, will bring the guest sermons. Previous to his Puerto Rico assignment, he was pastor of a Negro congregation in Florida for 10 years.

Varied Vigorous Features
Its varied and vigorous features were on large-scale display here recently, with an estimated total of 50,000 young Mormons taking part in the annual youth conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The gathering offered a sort of showcase — and also planning laboratory — of a massive program that goes on year around throughout the 2.6-million-member church.

And each of its many phases — from outdoor camping to public speaking — include those dual elements, both of diversion and of nurturing abilities and character.

"It's all part of the same thing," said Bonnie Youngberg, a pretty brunette from Bountiful, Utah, adding that religion is integral to happy, capable living. "Fun and faith go together."

That mixed package of skill-enhancing pastimes and devotion were ingredients, not only of the big jamboree here, but of a continuing, every-week operation involving most of the church's youth, more than a half-million of them.

They swing out on the dance floor, after a prelude of prayer. They sing, in quartets, duets and solo, with spirituals interspersed with romantic love songs and jivey ballads.

They stage dramas, with morality, and put on musical comedies, scrambling goodness with glee. They go in for athletics, with and ruffed a club. When For-knives, hatchets and other cut- ting tools. She picked up an ax and said:

"Choose a handle with good a part of righteousness.

They study crafts, life saving and nature lore in outdoor camps, with devotional testimonies around the fire at night.

These activities, along with an assortment of others in a score of different arenas, outlying woods, and assembly halls, made up a vast, fast-paced, festival here of the church's youth arm, its Mutual Improvement Association.

How does the church keep such a big proportion of its youth involved? Church officials offer various answers: the congregational ties, the firmness of dedication to the church, the scope and efficiency of the program, and its contagious effect — the fact that most all kids are doing it.

Rules Keep Distinction
But the church has some rules, along with its accent on skill and fun, that keep the atmosphere distinctive. Among church standards for youth:

Modesty in dress: "Tight-fitting sweaters and figure-hug-to 24 points in high cards, and ging clothes of any kind are not the next player passes. You appropriate." That includes hold: S-Q 10 5 2, H-A 9 6, D-10 8 bikinis and bare midriffs for swimming. And pincurlers are not to be worn in public.

For parties, men are to wear a suit with dress shirt and tie, and not light-fitting trousers one. Otherwise he bids three and never a T-shirt. ### Your Problems

Angel Who 'Staggers Traffic' Gets Her Reputation Run Down

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 16 and very popular. In fact, too popular. Please believe me when I say I am still a good girl. I admit I have necked with several guys (I started to date when I was 13) but I have never done anything I am really ashamed of.

The problem is that I get asked out so much and I like so many guys that sometimes I accept two dates for one night, with Freddie from 7 'til 10, and then I'll tell Teddie to come over at 10:15 and we'll go for a laundry as he insists. They pop off when he tries to jam his fat self inside. He sneaks the shirts back into the drawer and then he puts the blame on me.

I am only allowed to go out weekend nights and I have a heavy but many of them have had four or five babies in 10 years. They work like horses and they eat like horses. What's the husbands' excuse? -- Size 16 and Wish I Weren't.

Dear Size 16: Take that and that and that, you fat husbands. But, in all fairness, I must say, Lady, excuses don't count. It's what meets the eye that matters. And the eye is meeting entirely too much flesh these days — both male and female types.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Copyright 1967)

1:15 curfew which I have never broken. Please tell me how I can improve my reputation. — Angel Puss

Dear Angel: The first thing you can do is cut out the second shift. A gal who has to stagger the traffic gives the impression that she is trying to break some sort of a record.

Make I suggest that you make a new rule — "Hands off, one and all." Although you obviously consider yourself virtuous because you are technically intact, I suspect you are crowding the line, which can be risky as well as damaging to a girl's reputation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I got plenty darned sore when I read that letter from "Goggled-eyed," the man who claims this is "The Year Of The Rear."

I agree that women's fashions are down right unattractive these days. Anyone with two eyes in his head can see that there is entirely too much leg showing and the skirts are much too tight and too short. But why don't some of the boys take a good look at themselves? I am self and tired of seeing rolls of my human overalls' bummies. My husband yells at me at a lousy wife because, bummies are missing from his shirt. The buttons do not come off in the

All-America Game Pits East vs. West

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-conclusion Channels 11-6-9 — Coaches All-America Game brings football back to our TV screens. Sixty of the 1966 top collegiate players are pitted against each other in East and West teams. With the Mississippi used as the dividing line, the East team is coached by Army's Tom Cahill and features the likes of Steve Spurrier, Bob Griese and Nick Eddy. The West squad, with Nebraska's Bob Devaney coaching, will star Jon Brittenium, Rod Sherman and Ben Hart. (C)

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7-12 — Away We Go is mainly a Buddy-Buddy affair tonight shared between Greco and Rich. Of course the third regular, George Carlin, gets in his comedy kicks, especially when he takes off on Chet and David and Walter. Rich introduces his 13-year-old daughter Cathy who sings "The Beat Goes On." (C)

7:30-8 Channels 4-5 — Get Smart has a neat little spoof on all those beauty contests. Tisha Sterling is especially funny in this one, playing Miss U.S.A. whom CONTROL fears KAOS is going to capture.

7:30-8:30 Channels 2-7-12 — Mission: Impossible has a tense and often exciting adventure with "Wheels." Once again our band of counter-espionage specialists is in a mythical county trying to see the balance of power isn't on the side of the East. This time they want to swing a crooked election by rigging some fairly voting machines. (C-R)

8-10 Channels 4-5 — Well, now, here we go again with "Tammy Tell Me True," on Saturday Night at the Movies. Tammy proves, including this one, are simply popular or terribly unpopular, according to your taste, with no middle ground at all. Sandra Dee is the sweet young thing. (C-R)

9-10 Channels 2-7-12 — 11 p.m.

Hang Out Pictures of Cowboys on Big Silhouette

BY CAPPY DICK

If you are a lover of cut-out pictures of country-and-western cowboys, there's a big cowboy silhouette like that in the ad and illustration will help you get the hang of it and be proud of it.

How do you make holes?

A Big Profile

with pencil or black construction paper, or a large sheet of gold or silver wrapping paper that can be painted black with poster paint. The illustration suggests making the silhouette 36 inches high.

Cut the silhouette from the paper. Hang it on the wall of your room with thumbtacks.

As you collect pictures of your favorite cowboy singing stars, attach them to the cowboy silhouette with glue. The pictures may be clipped from newspapers and magazines.

When you have gathered a considerable number of cut-outs, try Kitchen luncheon, displays you will find they make a by 10 state professional exhibit display that will attract much more. Country Cupboard and favorable comment from your handcrafts. Wild Rose is on friends.

From Ki Ni Island...

It is so wonderful to know that our plans for your summer enjoyment have pleased you even though the weatherman has had a problem co-operating. We are sure he will soon, but the fun goes on anyway.

Many things have fallen into line so rapidly, such as the wonderful paving done on Pioneer Drive by the City of Oshkosh. We all love it, especially Sunday drivers who come to view all of the activities here and at the Marina. But don't just drive by — come in and see for yourself.

The recent arrival of the "BERWALL 111", after a two-month trip from Fort Meyers, Florida, was exciting, and after a few minor repairs she will be berthed here for the summer.

Our new yacht club will have its first meeting on Saturday, July 8th, at 7:30. All interested boaters are welcome to attend for good fellowship and to make plans of what you would like to do. Meet these fine people from our area, and also Chicago and suburbs, Rockford, Janesville, Wisconsin Rapids, and Milwaukee and suburbs.

Plan ahead, or drop in for elegant dining in our Bellevue dining room for brunches, buffets and fine specialties made by our Maitre'd. For informal and impromptu snacks, steaks or fish, we know you love the Caboose. Come as you are — in shorts, yachting clothes, etc., and join the swinging crowd.

And for entertainment — our guests are all raving about the Phil Dutcher Trio in the Lost Dauphin cocktail lounge every Friday and Saturday nights. They are captivating our guests, and even have a community sing at times — late in the evening, of course! Playing from nine to one o'clock — you will want to hear them soon!

You all know and will want to remember that we have entertainment every night in the Caboose for your dining and dancing pleasure.

See you on Ki Ni Island... you know of course, it means "To Live Again!"

Mother, Poor Mother Loses Out on Television

Producer Edmund Hartman Points to 'Three Sons,' 'Family Affair,' New One

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What- ever happened to mother on the screen?

"She has been ruled out by Nielsen," suggests writer-producer Edmund Hartman, referring to the audience-rating service.

He appears to be right. Take a look at the major television embraced by the critics. This, Keith, a rugged type, in a do-series and you'll find a scarcity of mothers. Why?

"I'm not certain," adds Hartman, "But, whether it's a 'Bonanza' or 'The Monroes,' it seems that a show is more dramatic if it has a mother figure to eliminate the character of the mother."

Motherless Shows Funnier

Motherless shows apparently are funnier, too. Nobody is more convinced of that than Hartman, who happens to be producer of the 7-year-old "My Three Sons" and this season's success, "Family Affair." Both concern males—Fred MacMurray, Brian Keith—faced with the awesome task of rearing children without female help.

Time for Compromise on School Site

The seeds of compromise have been sown to provide the Appleton School Board with Hoover Park's 11.6 acres of flat land for a new southside school site, and it is obvious that reality should be recognized with the Common Council having rejected the board's only site choice on three occasions in recent weeks.

There is no dispute over the need for the new facility; on this the Board and Council are in full agreement. But the site matter seems to have become a personal crusade in some circles, resulting in repetitive power plays which in effect are delaying finalizing of plans for the new elementary facility on the rapidly growing south side.

Questionable is the Board's position of close to three years that one — and only one — site would be acceptable when there are or have been several others available in proximity.

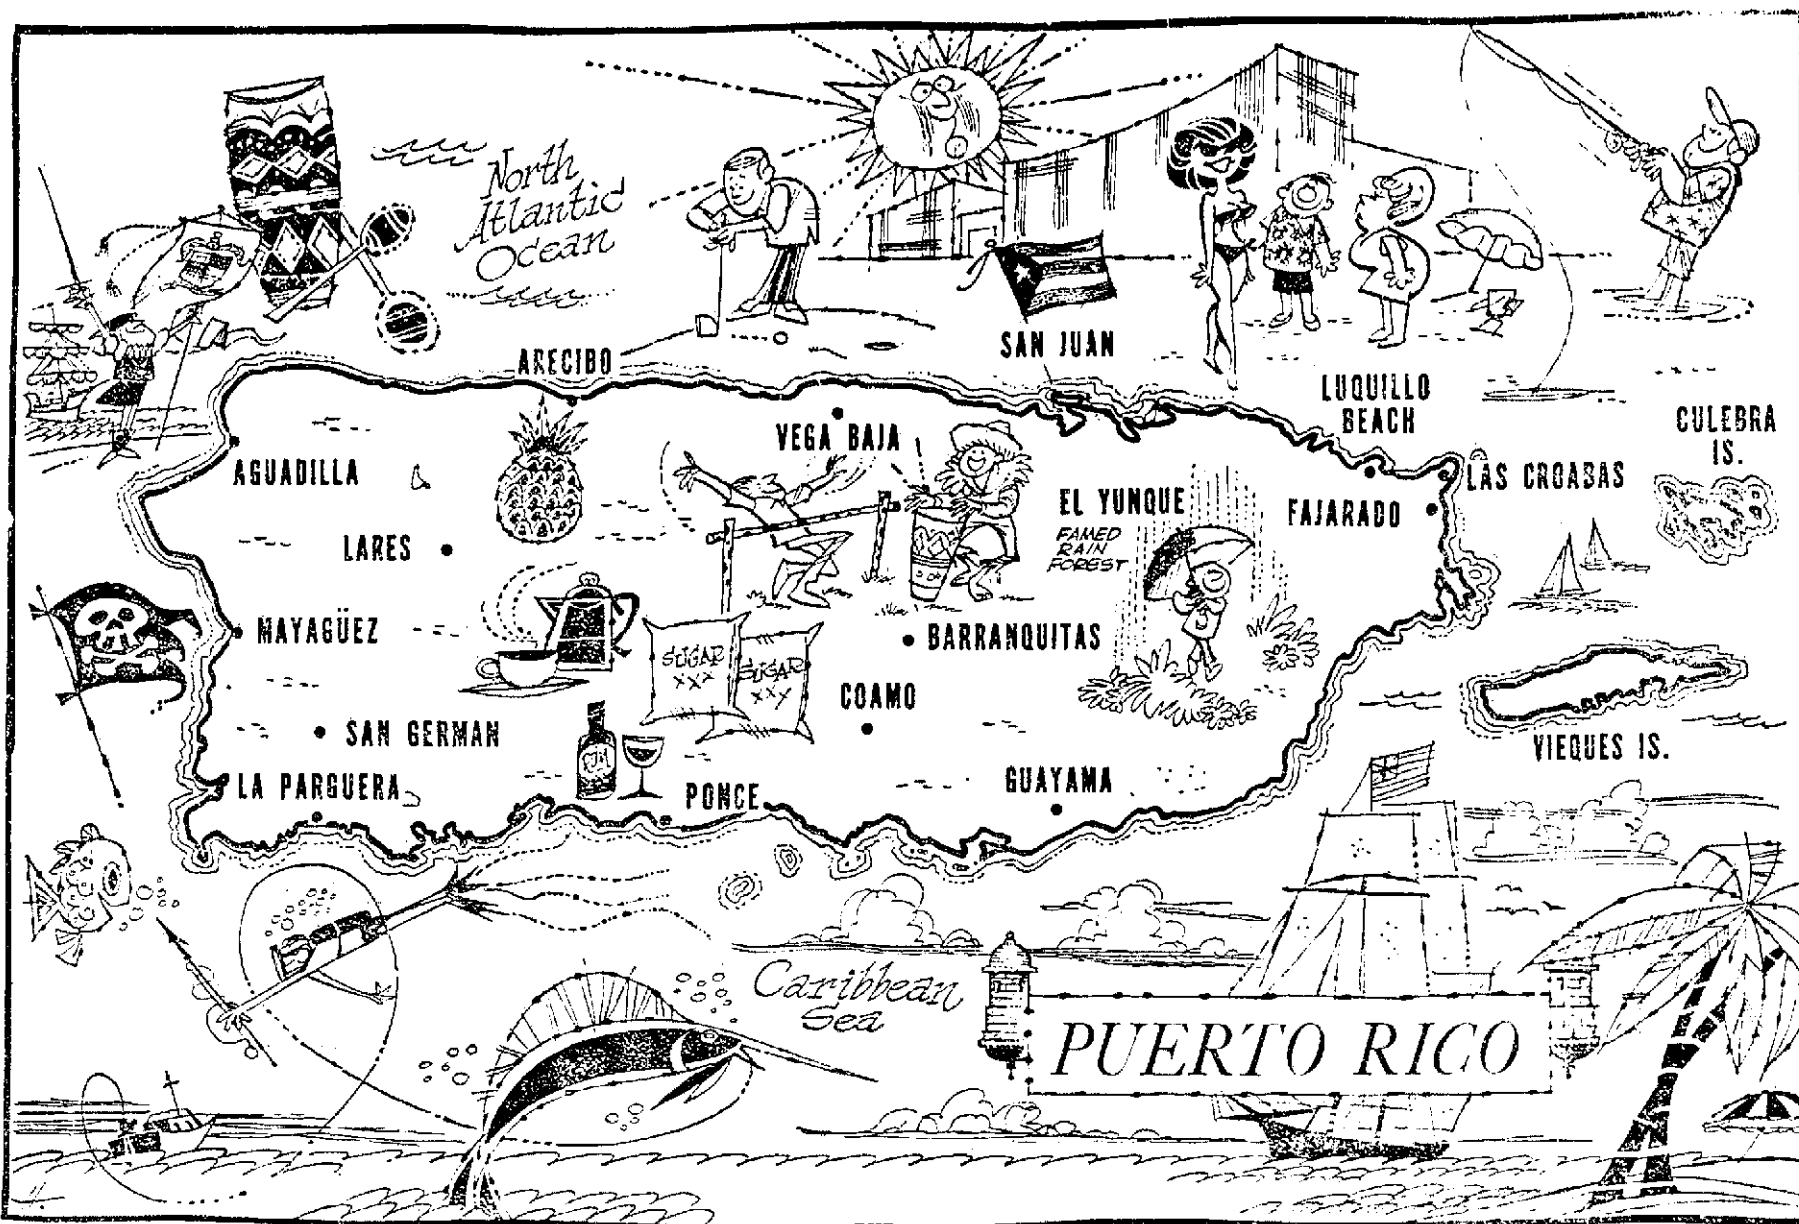

The suggestion to turn the Hoover Park site over to the School Board and in turn develop 22 acres of nearby city-owned property into a large park-recreation area seems feasible and practical. However, it is apparent some critics of this proposal have lost sight of Appleton's overall comprehensive plan which cost over $100,000 and which charts the city's course through 1985. It cites general areas in which population pockets are likely to develop requiring more schools and municipal services. And there also is a long-range annexation program indicative of future expansion plans.

While the community has the greatest faith in its dedicated Board of Education and administrative staff, the Board's continued argument for one site seems almost to have reached the point of stubbornness. School and city officials have stated their cases clearly and common sense now dictates that a compromise is in order.

Taking prices and proximity of various properties in question — plus other factors related to potential city growth and annexations — it would appear difficult to plead the School Board's case. By its conclusive action, and in keeping with recommendations of engineers and local and regional planners, the Common Council has shown patience and good faith in attempting to make a site available and get school construction going.

Other boards, commissions and agencies might take notice of the overall community picture, and rather than compete and confuse city matters, pledge that issues will not be fed with emotions and other factors which tend to lead to negativity, loss of perspective and possible jeopardy of other municipal programs waiting in the legislative winds for their day of decision.

After 69 Years, Puerto Rico Votes on Statehood

BY R. GREGORY NOKES

SAN JUAN (AP) — Puerto Ricans will vote July 23 on whether they want to change the political status of their island that has been under U.S. control since the Spanish-American War in 1898.

The voters on this Caribbean island of 2.7 million people are being asked whether they want to continue the present 15-year-old commonwealth status, or whether they would prefer statehood or independence.

As a commonwealth, Puerto Rico enjoys a considerable degree of autonomy. The U.S. income tax does not apply here and the island government collects and spends its own taxes.

Puerto Ricans are U.S. citizens, but do not vote for President. They are subject to U.S. military draft laws.

Puerto Rico hasn't been independent since Ponce de Leon conquered it for Spain in 1509 and became its first governor.

Commonwealth Opposed Most observers feel the commonwealth will prevail in the plebiscite, although its backers are receiving some stiff and energetic competition from a statehood faction headed by wealthy industrialist Luis Ferre.

Former Governor Luis Munoz Marin, now 69, has emerged from semi-retirement as the chief defender of the commonwealth formula of which he was the chief architect in 1952.

The small independence faction is vocal in its insistence that Puerto Rico is nothing more than a United States colony, but it has so far failed to make much of an impact.

The outcome, whatever it is, will be clouded by the fact that the island's major statehood party and most advocates of independence are boycotting the plebiscite.

They contend it is a sham devised by the dominant Popular Democratic Party to improve its position. Munoz is the titular head of this party.

In addition, the result will not be binding on the U.S. government. The voting is intended to serve as an indication to the U.S. Congress of the direction the Puerto Ricans want to go.

Munoz Marin argues that any deviation from commonwealth status will risk giving up one of the highest rates of economic growth in the world.

Since 1953, more than 1,100 new manufacturing plants have located in Puerto Rico, many of them attracted from the mainland by liberal tax exemption policies.

The gross national product quadrupled during the same period, from $651 million to $2.7 billion. Tax increases in the importance of industry has been matched by a doubling of the importance of the manufacturing and construction sectors and coffee.

Lately, the island has become a magnet for U.S. tourists. Attracted by the mild climate and luxurious beaches, a record 800,000 tourists visited here in the season just ended.

Detractors of the commonwealth point to the high local unemployment rate that has reached almost one-fourth of the population. And although the island's personal income tax is the highest in the Caribbean at 50 per cent, it is still lower than most of the 48 United States states. The high unemployment rate and the high cost of living are among the reasons for the growing migration of Puerto Ricans to the mainland.

The Year Around College

A suggestive footnote to the dynamic trends in higher education here and elsewhere is provided in the booming enrollments for summer session programs at the University of Wisconsin and its branches and at the nine expanding schools of the state university system.

The University of Wisconsin has reported that it expects nearly 21,000 students to enroll in its summer session offerings this year, which will be a record. The state university system is not far behind. It also expects to establish a new peak of summer enrollment with about 15,500 students.

Aside from what is indicated here about the growing interest and pressure for graduate studies in an increasing variety of occupations and professions, the explosion of summer instruction activity in our institutions has pretty well set at rest the demand for a reorganization of the usual college schedule for the purpose of using staff and plant investment more efficiently.

At least one recent governor, and some leading legislators in several recent legislative sessions, have discussed favorably the idea of abandoning the classical two semester program of college-level instruction, in favor of a trimester system, so-called, that would encompass virtually the entire year. In such a way, it has been argued, the unit cost of instruction could be reduced through a more intensive use of facilities.

It is now apparent that a trimester plan could be established with fair success only through statutory compulsion, and both students and faculty have resisted that idea. Some students must find jobs during the summer period to finance their regular term college studies. The summer holiday is regarded as one of the attractions of the teaching profession by many of its members. In any event, the state is now approaching a fairly intensive summer season use of staff and buildings and other equipment on a voluntary basis, with the free will matriculation of the student, and the voluntary acceptance of a summer teaching contract by a sufficient number of faculty members at all the institutions to provide a wide range of study opportunities.

The summer term enrollment this year in the state universities will amount to about a third of the regular term student population. In the University of Wisconsin system, the summer students represent a larger ratio of the regular term population, and will probably reach 50 per cent soon.

State-Local Revenue Needs Will Alter Local Government Patterns

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A friend who is a specialist in local government affairs suggests that the most important assignment given by the Legislature to the Tarr committee on state-local revenue distribution has, thus far, gone almost unnoticed in the publicity and public discussions of the job of the new task force.

It is the mandate to study the adequacy and efficiency of local government arrangements in Wisconsin, the first such command for a review of the big and complex community of local government that has been given by a legislature in recent memory.

Implied, at the least, in the legislative act which set up the study group, is the idea that a more generous program of revenue sharing with the localities may come only at the price of some reform in the structure of the multiplicity of towns, villages, cities, counties, and special governmental corporations that now operate as separate entities for reasons that may no longer relate to modern conditions or needs.

James Morgan, the state tax commissioner, is vice-chairman of the study group headed by President Curtis Tarr of Lawrence University which has scheduled a series of hearings as its first order of business during the next six months. Morgan expressed the local government organization question succinctly in a guest column he contributed to this space nearly a year ago.

THE CHANGES

"There have been drastic changes in population, transportation, and technology, but few changes in the pattern of local government. There are many rural units of government that exist although they have very few functions to carry on and few people to serve," he wrote.

Many such functions could be transferred to counties, with fruitful opportunities for economy and probably better service.

In the growing urban areas of the state there are increasingly obvious questions about the proper role of counties and cities. In Milwaukee, there is now a movement to transfer responsibility for some of the city services — the museum is a hardy example — which actually serve a regional constituency, to the county government as a means of spreading the tax costs more equitably.

There is the tendency for incorporation of suburbs which threaten in some cases to choke the parent city. The whole issue of "Lebensraum" for the urban municipality, as it might be called, has thus far had only the slightest consideration of the Legislature, as shown by the studied indifference of the lawmakers on annexation questions.

Many students of local affairs are convinced that the county as an instrument of local government will have an increasingly important role in the typical medium or large city of the state, the city

COUNTY OF THE FUTURE

Many students of local affairs are convinced that the county as an instrument of local government will have an increasingly important role in the typical medium or large city of the state, the city governments are providing services that are enjoyed without cost by their neighbors across the city boundary lines. Counties will inevitably be involved in such extra-territorial service functions, and especially as the city hall financial problems worsen, as they will.

There is a habit of assuming that the county lines of Wisconsin as they emerged in the 19th century are somehow fixed for all time. But it is unlikely in the extreme that this state would form 72 counties if the county governments were being established by legislative act today. Their numbers could be cut by half, if logical and economic considerations only prevailed.

If there is a serious disposition to consider such matters, there will be a loud roar of protest by the special interest groups who imagine that they will be adversely affected, including the local government office-holders. But there is an encouraging precedent, as some of the members of the Tarr task force will remember.

Nothing in the way of local government change was quite as difficult to achieve as the reshaping of the school district map of Wisconsin, which took nearly a quarter of a century. Yet, it was done, largely through forceful statehouse leadership and the persuasive power of the state financial aid budget. That weapon may be useful again, as the numerous family of local governments pleads ever more earnestly for more help from the state treasury.

Sinai: Ageless Land Greeted Jewish Victors

WASHINGTON — The Sinai, a land of 200,000 square miles, is the only land in the world where the Jewish people have lived for centuries. A tradition of Jewish people, who have lived in the Sinai for centuries, is to build a temple in the Sinai. The Jewish people have lived in the Sinai for centuries.

The triangular peninsula between the Suez Canal and the Red Sea is vast, desolate, and thinly populated. With an area almost as great as West Virginia, it supports only 50,000 people or so. Even animals are rare, although some jackals, foxes, gazelles, and leopards manage to survive.

Geographers usually consider Sinai a part of Asia, the National Geographic Society says. The name is believed to come from the Babylonian Assyrian moon-god Sin. But the peninsula has long been united politically with Africa (Egypt).

Moses Received Commandments Many travelers have crossed Sinai's sandy belt along the Mediterranean — legions of Syrian, Hittite, Assyrian, Persian, Roman, Greek, and Napoleonic soldiers. Few persons except nomads, pilgrims, and archaeologists have braved southern Sinai's tumbled mass of granite mountains.

In this region, the Biblical Jews roamed after fleeing Egypt between 1350 and 1350 B.C. The Scriptures say Moses received the Ten Commandments atop a mountain. Tradition identifies the peak as 8,000-foot-high Mount Sinai in the southern part of the peninsula. Moslems know it as Gebel Musa—Mount of Moses.

At the foot of Mount Sinai, amid landscape as stark and forbidding as the surface of the moon, stands the ancient monastery of St. Catherine maintained by Greek Orthodox monks.

The monastery was built to Better known now than the icons is St. Catherine's extraordinary wealth of manuscripts. Some 3,000 ancient writings make the monastery the world's richest monastic library, not only in sheer numbers but also in antiquity. Texts in Greek, Arabic, Syriac, Georgian, Slavonic, Ethiopic, and other languages document more than 1,500 years of Christianity.

Though armies have advanced and retreated ceaselessly across the peninsula, St. Catherine's has enjoyed a peace and serenity unknown almost anywhere else.

Shortly after World War II, a visitor engaged a monk in conversation. The monk was astounded to learn about World War II. The visitor was even more astounded when he learned that the monk also knew nothing of World War I.

Why Hospital Costs Increase

The National Conference on Medicare Care Costs has focused attention on the unprecedented cost increases the nation's hospitals are currently experiencing. And the American Hospital Association has issued a report pointing out the basic reason for these increases.

Hospitals are what economists call "labor intensive" organizations. Two-thirds of their total costs are for payroll, and the trend has been for a constant increase in manpower requirements rather than the reverse which is true in industry. Twenty years ago hospitals employed 1 1/2 persons to care for each patient. Today the ratio is almost 3 to 1.

The breakthrough in salaries for hospital employees this year thus has had an exaggerated effect on hospital costs. Hospital salaries have jumped from 20 per cent to as much as 40 per cent in some areas of the country triggered by last summer's nurses' strikes and by inclusion of hospital employees under the minimum wage laws Feb. 1 of this year. It is predicted that hospital costs will continue to rise steeply for the next three to five years, leveling off when hospital wages catch up with those of business and industry.

The increased charges which hospitals have had to make to meet these rapidly rising costs have been cushioned to an extent, in their effect on the public, because a large percentage of patients today are covered by insurance in one form or another. But the rising rates must presage an increase in premium charges for such insurance, and for the federal and state governments they presage financial troubles for Medicare and allied programs.

phy — but it is not likely that this really had much to do with the rioting. It was simply too many youngsters, too much beer, and the follow-the-leader mentality that afflicts a lot of people of every age.

Quite obviously there must be stern restrictive measures to prevent such outbreaks again. The widespread destruction of property does not necessarily indicate a deep sickness among the youth. A mob does things that few individuals would consider. The way to prevent another Lake Geneva outbreak is to keep a mob from developing.

The Lake Geneva Rioting

A mob has no head and that truism once again was proved by the riots and vandalism in and around Lake Geneva over the Independence Day holiday.

Demonstrations on college campuses for or against the war, lower ages for beer, or less campus restrictions have no relations to the holiday violence except possibly for an unstated suspicion and resistance to authority. There is among young people a doubt of the opinions of older people — the never-trust-anyone-over-thirty philosophy.

Chadbourne New UW President

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for July 6, 1867

The Board of Regents of the State University elected Prof. Paul A. Chadbourne, President of the University unanimously, in accordance with the recommendation submitted by the committee appointed to procure a President.

It was resolved to pay him $3,000 a year, and that the residence of Professor Read of the University grounds be appropriated as the President's house, and its use be given to him without charge.

Prof. Chadbourne appeared (at the meeting) and accepted his election and, in the course of the day, presented a list of Departments of the University to carry out a plan of reorganization. There was considerable discussion in regard to the retention of the old faculty or any portion of it, based on the report of the special committee.

On the 24th (June 24), the by-laws were taken up, amended and adopted, and the arrangement of studies was left to the President and Faculty. It was deemed inexpedient to reject the present Faculty of the University, and members were notified that their terms of service would expire June 30.

This was endorsed by resolution, that President Chadbourne be requested to present names for a new faculty at as early a day as possible.

Israeli, Egyptian Fighting Breaks Out

El Qantara, 12 miles south of Ras Elish.

Israel captured nearly all of Egypt east of the canal in the June 5-10 Arab-Israeli war but Port Fuad, a seacoast city at the canal's north entrance still is in Egyptian hands.

An Egyptian communique said the Israelis attempted at 3:30 a.m. EDT to rush tanks and armored cars through the narrow roads parallel to the canal heading for Port Fuad. It said Egyptian shelling destroyed one tank and three armored cars.

An Egyptian radio station — the "Voice of the Arabs" — said the fighting still was raging.

Port Fuad is divided by the canal, with most of its mud huts lying on the west bank. Reliable sources indicated the Egyptians have maintained some positions on the east bank to protect the city.

Three Attempts

Egyptian reports say Israeli forces stationed at the east bank town of El Qantara have tried three times in less than 10 days to seize Port Fuad.

Israeli soldiers at Qantara have said Egyptian commanders try almost nightly to speak across the canal to sabotage Israeli positions.

After the earlier fighting, three Egyptian officers were promoted for "heroic action."

Two Egyptian newspapers published accounts of last week's Israeli-Egyptian clash at Ras Elish.

Egypt accused destruction of six Israeli tanks and nine armored cars in that clash. The newspapers, Al-Nahdha and Al-Ahram, said the Israeli tanks were destroyed by Egyptian artillery.

As in today's military, Egypt claimed Israeli forces were trying to advance to Port Fuad.

In the Arab-Israeli war, Egypt's military was the main force in the Sinai Peninsula, but it was the Israeli army that won the war.

15-Year Veteran

Deputy Police Chief John Fisk said Towell spent about 15 years in the Canadian Air Force and was discharged about two years ago on medical grounds.

No motive was found for the slayings. Police Staff Sgt. William Porteous said: "The man just went berserk."

David D. A. Webster, 31, an assistant professor of education at the university, and his wife, Marlene, 30, were killed instantly with single shots in the chest. The couple's four orphaned children, aged six months to 10 years, were found by police huddled together in the basement of their home.

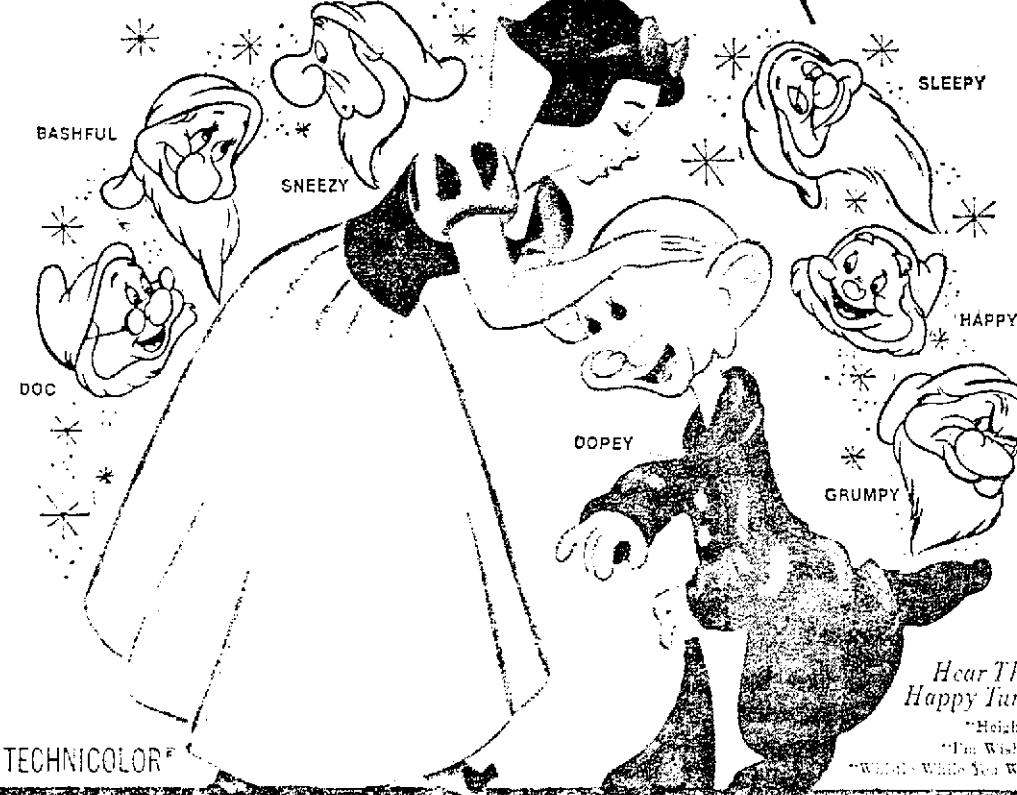

Wounded and reported in fair condition were Mrs. Holda Baxter, 56, of Powell River, B.C., and Mrs. Patti Barrass, 18, a bride of only a few weeks.

Webster was hit as he ran into his back yard after the shooting started. His wife was cut down as she ran to his side.

Mrs. Baxter suffered multiple minor wounds from a bullet and flying glass while she was babysitting with her five grandchildren in a home across the street from Towell's.

Mrs. Barrass was shot in one leg as she and her husband

UW Regents Claim Funds Insufficient

might be building campuses which should not be considered as a part of the high quality UW system.

"This isn't even enough money to put up a decent high school in a medium sized city in Wisconsin," said Debardeleben of the $6.1 million state funding of the UW-GB. "This doesn't even have a library in it," he said of the Parkside plan, which envisions a laboratory classroom building as the first academic structure.

"This board owes it to the state of Wisconsin not to start something not worthy to bear the name of the University of Wisconsin and I can't accept the fact that these will be," he said.

At his urgings the regents amended their resolution accepting the funds to state that they still back the original development plans requested by the UW. They added the extra warning that the $6.1 million funds might require the schools to be opened later than 1969.

the limited costs of a campus needed for both juniors and seniors in Green Bay in 1969.

The UW and the State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education originally requested $28.6 million for the start of the two campuses on a third and fourth year level in 1969 with full four-year operation planned in 1971.

The CCHC later revised its suggestion to include four-year operation in 1970 at the expected cost of about $33.3 million.

An additional funding bill to bring the new campuses at least to the original requested level is expected to be offered in the fall session of the legislature by lawmakers from the affected areas.

Other regents agreed with Debardeleben that the appropriated funds are less than necessary to open the schools on a completely adequate basis but recommended that the funds be accepted with the warning.

"This is a start. We've got this money. If we turn this down it would indicate that we're completely unsatisfied," said Walter Renk of Sun Prairie. Dr. James Nellen of Green Bay warned that the decreased funds might require the schools to be opened later than 1969.

Fights Last Night

Former heavyweight champion Cassius under enlargement of bond for Clay, convicted of refusing the draft oath, asked Friday for court permission to fight in Tokyo to pay alimony and his lawyers. The judge ordered a long pause in the hearing to allow a probe of possible anti-American activities by the Black Muslim fighter.

In a motion filed Friday before U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham, who sentenced Clay June 20 to five years in prison and a fine of $10,000, Clay said a Tokyo promotion firm, Artlife Association, held him to a contract which must be honored before he can fight anywhere else.

The government opposed the motion in the hearing before Ingraham, claiming the stiff sentence the judge gave the boxer—the maximum permissible—is an incentive for him to flee.

Clay said the Aug. 15 Tokyo fight, against an unnamed opponent would bring him $200,000.

Webster Called Best Prospect

Webster a week they believe he is the best athlete on the East squad, which is favored in the seventh annual All-America game.

Will be Televised

The game will be nationally televised starting at 9:30 p.m., EDT.

"He'll be the next Dick Butkus or Tommy Nobis in the pros, or I'll be fooled," Cahill said, comparing Webster with the Chicago Bears' Butkus and the Atlanta Falcons' Nobis, two linebackers who had great rookie seasons.

"I'd be happy to be half as good as Butkus or Nobis," said Webster, who will play pro ball with the Houston Oilers.

The 6-foot-4 defensive end carries 229 pounds on his lanky frame, but he startled teammates with his speed during workouts for the game.

"Boy, he can really fly," said Tennessee's All-America line-backer Paul Naumoff, after he was whupped by Webster in a wind sprint.

Webster is a native of nearby Anderson, S.C., but he headed north for college because teams in Dixie were not integrated.

"Clemson was really sorta my team in those days," Webster said, "and I'd go up there some times and talk to Coach Frank Howard. Once he told me George, boy, you've just come along a few years too soon."

Webster will anchor the East's defenses against the West tonight, with the defensive stand-out for the West expected to be guard Loyd Phillips, 241-pound Arkansas veteran.

Both will have plenty of opportunities to spark, with Phillips trying to stop the running of the East's Floyd Little of Syracuse and Nick Eddy of Notre Dame.

Webster will be counted on to stop the West's Mel Farr of UCLA, Harry Wilson of Nebraska and Ray McDonald of Idaho.

Passing leaders for the East will be Florida's Steve Spurrier and Purdue's Bob Griese, with the West aerial attack in the hands of Jon Brittenum of Arkansas and Bo Burris of Houston.

Fond du Lac '9' Beats Mayville

Southern Division leader Fond du Lac 16-0 beat Mayville 14-7, by a 10-2 count in a recent Fox Valley Legion League game.

Winner Don Eiring allowed only four hits and struck out 16. Loser Ron Rose went the first five and 1-3 innings, allowing eight hits.

Recess Hearing

The judge ordered the hearing recessed until July 21, and the man will have until that time to wait for a possible Federal Bureau of Investigation report on Clay's activities while free on bond.

across with the tying run in the ninth inning and then Jones opened the 11th against reliever Jack Lamabe with his game winner.

The Cubs absorbed their fifth straight defeat and fell 2 1/2 games back of St. Louis as Houston's Barry Latman hurled 5 1/3 innings of two-hit relief.

A five-run fourth inning keyed by two-run doubles by Don Davis and Bob Aspromonte, kept the Astros going. Jimmy Wynn doubled across two more Houston runs in the fifth, lifting his league leading runs batted in total to 62.

Steve Carlton won his seventh game for St. Louis as the Cardinals snapped a 1-1 sixth inning tie against Philadelphia with four runs.

Julian Javier's two-run single was the big blow for the Cardinals, who beat ex-teamsmate Larry Jackson, 6-9.

Jackson was struck in the face by a wild throw in the fourth inning and was to have N-rays of his nose taken today.

Shiocton and Garsow Win Bonduel Suffers 3-2 Defeat in Dairyland Makeup

Miss Kolb wasn't pushed quite so hard by 13-year-old Sue Pederson, of Sacramento, Calif. In a brief comment between races, she said, "Yes, I went for the record."

All three figure to have strenuous challenges today.

Spitz goes against Don Scholander of Santa Clara in the 200 freestyle. Don is world record holder at the distance and the field also includes Zac Zorn, NCAA champion.

Misses Kolb and Peterson go right back at each other, this time in the 400-meter medley.

Miss Kruse tries against Santa Clara's Pokey Watson, record holder in the 200 freestyle, along with Kathy Wainwright of Australia and two more Santa Clara swimmers, Nancy Ryan and Linda Gustavson.

World record holder Ad Kok of Holland will be challenged at her 200 butterfly specialty by Lee Davis of Santa Clara, American record setter.

U. S. Captures 8-Man World Bowling Title

MALMOE, Switzerland (AP) —The United States captured the eight-man European style World Bowling Championship Friday, retaining the title it won at the last world tourney in Mexico in 1963.

Using six bowlers from Milwaukee, Wis., the Americans tallied 12,403 pins in the 64-game tourney.

Ron Wheeler of Milwaukee led the winners with an eight-game total of 1,679 including a big game of 273. Les Zikes, a former all events world champion from Chicago, hit 1,610.

Behind those two came five Milwaukee bowlers—Wayne Pinkawka with 1,604, Mark Kuglitsch at 1,593, Dennis Wright at 1,541, Bob Pinkalla at 1,518, and Gene Raffel with 1,472. Frank Perry of Lorraine, Ohio, finished with 1,386.

SSAC Records Win

SSAC beat the Post-Crescent, 4-2, in the McKinley Division of the Appleton Little League Wednesday.

Rusty Thomack was the winning pitcher and Merkel loser.

Area Golf Highlights

Wambold Wins 'A' Flight Title in Ridgeway Tourney

Floyd Wambold won the "A" flight title in Neenah Ridgeway's June Handicap tournament. He finished with a net of 67. Charles Steingraber was second, with a 72 net.

Clem Rossmessel took "B" flight honors, with a 69 net. Ben Kluba, was runnerup, with a 70.

In "C" flight, Herman Schmitz-kewitz won the title, with a net of 69. Claude Charron was second, with 71. The "D" flight titlist was Bill Capps, with a 74 net. C. W. Peterson finished second, with a 76.

Mr. and Mrs. Dar Wamsley posted the low gross score (184) in Ridgeway's recent Mr. and Mrs. tournament. Second were Mr. and Mrs. Ole Jorgensen, with a 190.

In the low net category, top honors were shared by Mr. and Mrs. Marty Thyssen and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Manthey. They tallied 152s.

Recent Men's Day winners at Ridgeway were Orville Prokash, Chet Bland, Bernie Samuels and Norm Fredrick.

High School Seniors Shatter World Records

Spitz, Claudia Kolb And Pam Kruse Star in Swim Test

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Three phenomenal high school seniors who shattered world records to open the Santa Clara International Invitational Swim Meet try for more laurels today.

They are Mark Spitz, who easily won the 400-meter freestyle Friday at 4:08.8; teammate Claudia Kolb of the Santa Clara swim team, 2:27.5 in the 200 medley relay, and Pam Kruse of Pompano Beach, Fla., 4:36.4 in the 400 freestyle.

These youngsters, each only 17-years-old, had something extra as incentive.

On June 25 Spitz lowered the world 400 record to 4:10.6. Tuesday, Alain Mosconi of France cut it to 4:09.2 at Monte Carlo. Mark went on "to do better than '9.2.'" Miss Kruse, who had a record 4:37.2 a week ago in Florida, said, "I thought it would take a record to win here."

It did. Debbie Mayer of Sacramento, Calif., pushed her to it, all the way.

Fourteen-year-old Debbie tied Pam's 4:37.2 in thrilling finish.

Wasn't Pushed

Miss Kruse wasn't pushed quite so hard by 13-year-old Sue Pederson, of Sacramento, Calif. In a brief comment between races, she said, "Yes, I went for the record."

Spitz goes against Don Scholander of Santa Clara in the 200 freestyle. Don is world record holder at the distance and the field also includes Zac Zorn, NCAA champion.

Misses Kolb and Peterson go right back at each other, this time in the 400-meter medley.

Miss Kruse tries against Santa Clara's Pokey Watson, record holder in the 200 freestyle, along with Kathy Wainwright of Australia and two more Santa Clara swimmers, Nancy Ryan and Linda Gustavson.

World record holder Ad Kok of Holland will be challenged at her 200 butterfly specialty by Lee Davis of Santa Clara, American record setter.

U. S. Captures 8-Man World Bowling Title

MALMOE, Switzerland (AP) —The United States captured the eight-man European style World Bowling Championship Friday, retaining the title it won at the last world tourney in Mexico in 1963.

Using six bowlers from Milwaukee, Wis., the Americans tallied 12,403 pins in the 64-game tourney.

Ron Wheeler of Milwaukee led the winners with an eight-game total of 1,679 including a big game of 273. Les Zikes, a former all events world champion from Chicago, hit 1,610.

Behind those two came five Milwaukee bowlers—Wayne Pinkawka with 1,604, Mark Kuglitsch at 1,593, Dennis Wright at 1,541, Bob Pinkalla at 1,518, and Gene Raffel with 1,472. Frank Perry of Lorraine, Ohio, finished with 1,386.

More Students Than Jobs

Hardest Work For Twin City Teenager-Finding Summer Job

NEENAH-MENASHA — State Employment Service files show that the hardest job some Twin City young people will take on this summer will be finding work.

A number of reasons are cited by A. P. Engebretson, manager of the Appleton office of the state agency, which includes Neenah-Menasha in its service area.

Files in June showed a total of 1,250 applicants for work from the Twin Cities who had either renewed previous requests for work or had placed their names on applications for the first time.

Of these, Engebretson said, 595 were listed as June high school graduates while another 131 were listed as seeking summer jobs and were mostly students who will return to high school or college this fall.

Work Found

Engebretson said his office found work for 78 per cent of all applicants for work in Neenah-Menasha and Appleton in June, but had not calculated how many of these were summer job applicants or students.

However, 293 of a total 360 applicants from the Twin Cities who found jobs were under 22 years of age, he said.

The area follows trends experienced elsewhere in the nation, with youth finding summer work increasingly harder to come by.

Engebretson said there are a number of reasons, including failure of business and industry to produce summer job opportunities as quickly as high school graduates. With more students going to college than returning each summer in search of work, the number of applicants is further enlarged, he added.

Fierce Competition

As a result, he said, "competition for summer jobs has become pretty fierce," he said. The state agency also has found itself faced with growing competition from mothers and fathers who "pull strings" for their offspring and find jobs in the plant where the parents work, he observed.

Engebretson said that while exact figures on the number of youths still seeking summer work are unavailable, "If we had orders for 200 students, I am sure we wouldn't have any trouble filling them."

Three-Building Terminal Unveiled for County Port

Terminal Plans Could Upset Runway Work

Expanded Winnebago Complex Designed for 1980 Traffic; Cost Could Hit $1 Million

BY PETER GENIESSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Preliminary sketches of a terminal complex at the Winnebago County Airport, which would be six times the size of the present building and could cost in the neighborhood of $1 million, were unveiled to members of the aviation committee Friday evening.

The Milwaukee consulting engineer firm of Howard, Need-Tamm and Bergendoff, the consultants presented air engaged for $7,800 to survey the traffic and cargo projections aviation needs to the year 1980, and explained numerous turned in its first comprehensive sketches which showed prospective report to the county board posed pedestrian and vehicular movement at the airport.

The terminal complex allows room for expansion beyond 1980. Looper denied that the airport location was already "obsolete" and insisted that if the master plan were adopted, the airport would — that is, could serve — the needs well beyond 1980.

He said construction in separate units lends itself to further expansion. But he suggested the buildings should be built for the year 1980 instead of a staged construction plan.

Looper noted that if the terminal was built in stages there would be a considerable increase in cost, due to spiraling construction costs.

The consultant said the county board would have to make a policy decision whether to build in stages or to anticipate the future growth and needs and "perhaps, overbuild."

Looper felt the airport should provide more space than is needed at the present time and noted the extra room would be utilized for other purposes until needed by the projected increase in passengers and cargo.

Less Disruptive
"We believe it is no more expensive and certainly less disruptive to build for the future," Looper remarked.

The firm recommended the present site of the terminal because of traffic patterns, parking problems and availability of the present building while construction is taking place at the nearby locations.

Two large overnight parking lots would flank the complex with a short-term lot depressed about three feet to give a more esthetic view, directly in front of the terminal.

The present terminal will be used for tickets and baggage, with an enclosed walkway bypassing the counters directly to the waiting room.

The two-story unit, which would front the airport apron, will contain a large waiting room and snack bar on the first floor with a restaurant, and perhaps, conference rooms on the second level.

The third building to the east will echo the present terminal and will be used for baggage and cargo. Separate entrances are arranged to allow independent flows of passengers, trucks and cars.

The patio between the two wings will be landscaped and could be used for further expansion projects.

Trends Used
The consultants took into consideration forecasts of passenger cargo loads in relation to national aviation trends and projections of population growth in the air service area.

The estimated population of the air service area is 274,998 in 1970 and 343,748 in 1980.

They calculate that the 67,500 Winnebago County passengers expected by 1970 will increase to 145,000, or perhaps, 162,000 passengers, by 1980.

Terminal facilities for 240 persons will be needed during peak hours in 1980.

General aviation is also expected to increase considerably with the 35 private planes in 1963 reaching 105 in the next 13 years.

Air mail shipments will increase by almost 300 per cent during that period, and air cargo will experience a similar boost.

Besides the two major recommendations on the terminal size and location, the consultants suggested that base operations and private hangars located on the north side of the airport should be allowed to expand only in a westerly or southerly direction and land be reserved years ago as a wedding anniversary gift.

Land in the area of the Kimberly-Clark Corp. and Wittman Hangars should be set aside for expansion of those facilities and a future industrial park, the consultants also agreed.

Fire Hazard Denied

Oshkosh Chief Urges Fire Engine At Grandstand During County Fair

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh Fire fair exposition building which burned down suddenly in the fall of 1965 while unoccupied.

When the fire department responded, 12 to 18 minutes after the fire actually started, according to Stoegbauer's estimate, two-thirds to three-fourths of the building was already engulfed by fire, he said.

He said, however, that the first five minutes after a fire starts in an old wood structure like the grandstand are the most crucial in determining whether or not the fire can be controlled. If the fire is not answered within that time, there is little hope of controlling it, he said.

He said the grandstand, built in 1921, is a completely open, wooden structure and would "burn very swiftly and intensely." He said that, once a fire started, "all the protection in the world wouldn't stop it."

Fire protection to the fairgrounds is provided through a contract with the Oshkosh Fire Department.

The department has what it calls a "pre-plan" on the grandstand which designates how the department would handle a fire, as it does for every major Oshkosh building. It provides for evacuation of the building, designates which fire companies will respond to the call and apparatus to be used.

Stoegbauer said there are ample hydrants in the area. However, he said if the city owned the building, a fire engine would probably also be there while the grounds were occupied.

But, he added, since there have been no fire problems with the fairgrounds the fair association "must be making an effort" not to have things happen.

All regulations for the fairgrounds, including fire regulations for the grandstand, are request.

According to Lewis Magnuson, president of the association, all fire hazard. He said the building recommendations made by the industrial safety and building division on the state Industrial Commission in 1966 have been met. A state inspector recommended having all exits from the building.

Oshkosh Man Director of Area Vocational School

Board Selects William Sirek From a Slate of 3 Candidates To Head Technical Institute

SEYMOUR — William Sirek, director of the Oshkosh Technical Institute was named district director for area 12 by the Vocational, Technical and Adult Education area board (VTE-12) at a special meeting here Friday night.

Base salary was set at $18,500, with some details still to be worked out.

Sirek was one of three candidates named and certified by the State Vocational Board. Another slate of candidates would have been named if the District 12 board had not made an appointment from the original list.

The District 12 board reviewed qualifications and conducted interviews for almost four hours last night before announcing its selection around midnight.

Other Nominees

The other candidates were Charles Christianson, assistant director of VTE-District 15, and Nick Bordini, director at Kaukauna Vocational School.

As district director, Sirek will be the administrative school official, and will be responsible for the administration and supervision of the entire program. He will be expected to furnish competent educational leadership to the board.

Sirek's job will be similar to that of a superintendent of a school district, oriented to vocational, technical training plus the ability to create new programs and build an institute.

First Task

His first task will be to prepare a budget by Oct. 1. The board can levy a tax of up to two mills on an estimated equalized valuation of $1.8 billion, and the budget will also include state and federal aids.

Sirek will bring to the post more than 20 years of experience in educational, vocational, and administrative fields. Before coming to Oshkosh four years ago, he was trade and industry coordinator at Wausau Vocational - Technical School.

He taught science and math at Wausau and Roberts. He worked two years as a chemist at Trojan Chemical Powder Co., Sandusky, Ohio, and served in World War II as a navy communications officer.

Other Duties

A graduate of Rice Lake High School, Sirek earned his bachelor of arts degree at Wisconsin State University - River Falls and his masters at Stout State University, Menomonie.

Among his many duties, spelled out by the state vocational board.

- Keep the board informed of local educational activities through regular reports.
- Plan the meeting agenda.
- Handle all educational and administrative problems.
- Recommend staff appointments, promotions, salary adjustments and dismissal to the board.
- Participate in all meetings of the board, except where his appointment, retention and salary are being discussed.
- Keep board informed on major expenditures and keep a uniform and adequate accounting system and all other official records of the board.
- Serve in a liaison capacity for the board in its relations with faculty and other employees.
- Carry out the board policy, rules and regulations for development and operation of the district.
- Work with the state vocational board in developing a supervisory and teacher training program, conduct statewide surveys and file the required state reports.
- Provide for supervision, welfare and employment of the operational staff.
- Make formal and informal surveys of the community for the purpose of determining building needs, equipment needs and training needs of out-of-school youth and adults.
- Keep all members of the community informed of the training programs available to them through the institute and the annual operating budget.
- Plan program of guidance and counseling for all students, a system of progress and permanent records, social activities and a plan for placement after training.
- Appoint advisory committee for the six existing vocational schools at Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Kaukauna and Kimberly.

Regents Up Salary Of UW President

California Official Present as Harrington Is Boosted to $45,000

MADISON — University of Wisconsin President Fred Harrington was given his second pay raise of the day Friday to bring his annual salary to $45,000 — $3,500 ahead of his salary when he began the day.

The raise was the final action of the monthly meeting of the board of regents.

As a part of the acceptance of the annual operating budget earlier in the day, Harrington's salary had been raised from $41,500 to $43,750, escalating his position as the highest paid world.

Harrington is thought by many observers to be one of a handful of men qualified to handle the demanding administrative and political task of heading California's university.

Holds Closed Session

At the conclusion of the meeting the board went into an hour-long closed session, a session which had not been expected by board leaders at the start of the day.

When the doors opened Regents President Kenneth Greenquist, Racine, tersely announced that Harrington's salary had been again upped to $45,000. The action is retroactive to July 1.

Harrington had departed two hours earlier for a month's work-vacation in South America.

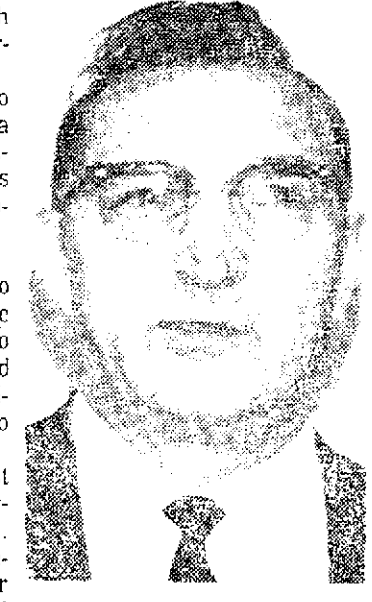

The budget approved by the regents was based on the biennial appropriation made to the system by the Legislature and signed into law by the governor.

Approve First Portion

The regents approved the first fiscal year portion of the measure, totaling $201.7 million, an expenditure level which will hit $552,700 during each of the days of the coming year.

Included in the total are state funds totaling $84.8 million. The remaining $116.9 million will be covered by fees, earnings, gifts, grants and other sources.

Acceptance of the budget came despite warnings of Arthur DeBardleben, regent from Park Falls, that the biennial total, $56 million less than requested by UW, represents a "dilution of quality" which the people of Wisconsin will oppose.

Motorist Unable To Pay Fines on Four Charges

Dennis Daniels, 822½ W. Commercial St., was in Outagamie County jail Friday afternoon when he was unable to pay fines totaling $110 levied by Judge Gustave J. Keller on four charges. The alternative is 54 days in jail.

Daniels was stopped by Appleton police in the 200 block of N. State Street about 6:30 p. m. June 24 for reckless driving. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $50 and costs of 24 days.

An incident in the 1500 block of S. Bartell Street about 4:30 p. m. June 26 resulted in charges of failure to transfer title, operating an unregistered vehicle and improper use of a license plate.

The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs or 10 days in jail for each count.

A 30-day sentence for contempt of court which the judge had imposed Monday was in a highly negligent manner. The charge results from a stabbing incident early the morning of May 27 following a fracas in a Town of Grand Chute beer bar.

Judge Gustave J. Keller of Outagamie County Court Branch 2 continued custody of the boy to his father.

Only witness to testify during the preliminary hearing, which had been requested by Philip Schlichting, the youth's attorney, was Russell Paeth, 1530 E. Glendale Ave. Paeth was stabbed in the abdomen during an alleged fight with Low.

Emergency Surgery

He was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital, where an emergency operation was performed. He was confined to intensive care for a week.

Paeth testified during the evening of May 26 that Low threw a beer bottle that hit William Rath, 18, 610 N. Owaisa St., on the head.

The youth said he later left the beer bar and saw Rath apparently chasing Low across a nearby field. He then overtook Rath and told him that he would get Low for the police.

The chase continued for several blocks, Paeth said, before Low stabbed him in a struggle between the garage and the house at 2640 W. Fourth St.

Judge Keller denied a motion of the defense attorney to dismiss the charge on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Paeth and Rath previously were found guilty of disorderly conduct in the incident in a trial June 24 and were fined $100.

Structure Of Council To be Studied

Committee structures and assignments will be considered by the Fox Valley Council of Governments at a 7:30 p. m. meeting Wednesday at Sabro Lanes in the Town of Menasha.

The council, successor to the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, will review the committees of the commission and decide what changes must be made to fit the structure of the council. The council differs from the commission in that it is composed of the chief executive official of the 12 Fox Cities communities in the group and two citizen members.

The commission consisted of 36 members, including 12 citizen members.
